Let all the earth cry out to God with joy.
Psalm 16

Only the Gospel of Luke includes the story of sending the seventy-two preachers out in addition to the Twelve Disciples.

Seventy-two was a number sometimes used to symbolize the Gentiles.

In light of Luke's interest in the Gentiles, it is fitting that today's passage includes a speech to suggest the mission to the Gentiles.

Dear Padre

July 7, 2019

Why so many collections during Mass?

For many, besides a boring homily, the collection is the most unpleasant part of the Mass. Some grudgingly drop small bills, while others believe contributing a twenty is reasonable. A second collection may elicit silent groans—unless it's for a recent calamity.

Since the early Church, a collection has been part of the liturgy. It was intended to support needy members (including widows and orphans) and the clergy. The collection was an expression of fellowship or communion.

This communion had several dimensions: communion of faith, communion of heart and mind (unity and friendship among members), communion of the table (the Eucharist), and communion of goods.

"The community of believers was of one heart and mind, and no one claimed that any of his possessions was his own, but they had everything in common," writes Luke in Acts 4:32. "There was no needy person among them, for those who owned property or houses would sell them, bring the proceeds of the sale, and put them at the feet of the apostles, and they were distributed to each according to need" (Acts 4:34-35).

Even today, at Mass we celebrate our communion of faith, heart, and mind. The Eucharist is the sacrament of communion between Christ and the community. Likewise, a communion of goods is concretely expressed during the collection.

This is what the Eucharist is about—not just sharing bread and wine, but sharing resources and gifts which ultimately are blessings from God.
